A CERTAIN YOUNG MAN Arrived the other day from New York, His chum was on hand to greet him. At the hotel, while helping to unpack, he could not refrain from expressing his admiration for the beautiful silk and flannel shirts his friend had brought along. "Why do'nt they keep such goods here?" he remarked in an agrieved tone. "My dear fellow," his friend replied with a laugh, "these shirts were bought of L. Zeckendorf & Co., and I guess they still have a few of of the same sort on hand."
